Sometimes choosing where to eat in Suzhou is something of a challenge. No matter how 11 the food tastes at a chosen restaurant, one may always wonder, “Is there anything better on the next street?” However, I’ve found the 12 to this question. When I’m asked to name my favourite place to eat in Suzhou, I will reply 13, “Song He Lou Restaurant”. Why is Song He Lou so special 14 hundreds of restaurants? Well, for me it comes down to a perfect balance of delicious food, pleasant atmosphere (氛围) and a near-perfect location.

Before coming to Suzhou, I was 15 by my friends from other cities in China that the food could be too sweet. For the first few months I chose to eat in Sichuan or Hunan style restaurants instead of eating much 16 food. However, after falling in love with the city, I came to realize that the food is so closely 17 with its local culture. 18 I asked a local friend to recommend the best place to try real local style food. She came up with the 19 of Song He Lou.

For a first-time visitor, “Song Shu Gui Yu” and “Xie Fen Tofu” are excellent 20. Suzhou has now become my home and I have a lifetime to enjoy each and every dish on the menu.

People all over the world eat eggs. Most of the eggs we eat come from hens. Eggs are easy to cook. They can be cooked in lots of ways such as fried or hard-boiled. Eggs can be used with other things to make cakes and ice-cream.

The fresh test

Put your egg in a pan of water and use the guide below to find out how old your egg is.

What happens to the egg	Age of the egg
Sinks (下沉) to the bottom of the pan and stays there	3-6 days old
Sinks, but floats at an angle (角度)	Just over 1 week old
Sinks, and then stands on end	About 2 weeks old
Floats on top or just under the surface	Over 2 weeks old

Eggs last a long time. You can keep them for about four weeks in your fridge.

24. According to Paragraph 1, cakes and ice-cream are mentioned to describe _____.
 A. the birth of chickens B. the difference between them
 C. the use of eggs D. the way of keeping them
25. What makes a yolk dark orange?
 A. The hen's food. B. The colour of the shell.
 C. The age of the egg. D. The vitamins in the egg.
26. What does the table above show?
 A. How heavy an egg can be. B. How long to cook an egg in a pan.
 C. How to make an egg sink. D. How to check the age of an egg.

C

Every day there is less and less space on Earth for rubbish. Yet every day we make more and more rubbish. What can we do? We can recycle some of our rubbish. Recycling means that the rubbish will be made into something that can be used again.

Recycling helps Earth. And it saves space in rubbish dumps. Half of everything that we put into landfills could be recycled instead. In fact, most things made of paper, metal, glass and plastic can be recycled.

Paper can be broken into small pieces and made into new paper. Steel and aluminum cans (金属罐) can be melted down (熔化) and made into new cans. The same is true of glass bottles. This can be done over and over again. Recycling doesn't take as much energy as making these things the first time. So we can use less of Earth's fuel resources.

Plastic can be melted down, too. Then it can be formed into park benches, playgrounds and so on. Some people call plastic the "wood" of the future. Things made of plastic will last about 400 years—even if they stay outside in the weather. No wood can do that!

27. The underlined word "landfills" in Paragraph 2 probably means _____.

- A. bench factories
- B. places for rubbish
- C. green mountains
- D. recycling centres

28. According to the passage, what happens last to the can?

- A. The can is put into a recycling bin.
- B. The can is melted down and reused.
- C. A steel can gets filled with corn.
- D. A person uses the corn in the can.

29. What is the main idea of the passage?

- A. Cans should be melted down.
- B. Old newspapers can be reused.
- C. We can build benches that last 400 years.
- D. We should recycle everything that we can.

D

Athletics vs. Gardening

The students of Southside School were asked to give their opinions about whether the school should run an athletic program or start a vegetable garden.

An athletic program is much better than gardening. How are we ever going to win anything at the Inter-School Athletics without proper training? At the moment, we only do athletics for one term and the teachers train us. We need experts (专家) to teach us things like throwing and high jump.

I know lots of kids say they're not interested in competitions, but that's because they've never won anything. If they got better training and started winning things, they'd soon change their minds.

People always say kids don't get enough exercise. Just because you do gardening outdoors doesn't make it exercise, so I don't see how it matters.

Athletics is much better for fitness and lots of kids can have a go at the same time. I don't think there would be enough jobs for everyone in a garden.

In fact, I think a garden is a really bad idea. I don't know why we're even considering it.

Liz, Grade 8

I think a vegetable garden is a great idea. We already do hours of sport, including athletics. And not everyone likes sport.

Gardening is a great way to get exercise without worrying about whether you're any good at it, or whether you're going to win. And you really do get exercise when you garden. There's digging, weeding and watering. Even picking things can be hard work—pumpkins aren't light you know!

There are lots of kids around here who don't have gardens so they can't grow things even if they want to. If you really want to do more sport, you can join a club.

And think about it: what helps you to be good at sport? You need to eat lots of fruit and vegetables. If we learn to cook all the things we grow, the garden will keep us all fit and healthy and then we'll be better at sport.

Sam, Grade 8

30. Which of these points do Liz and Sam both make?
- | | |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| A. Kids should take exercise. | B. Kids should eat vegetables. |
| C. Kids should try to win more. | D. Kids should be outside more. |
31. What is one reason Liz gives for saying "a garden is a really bad idea"?
- A. Some students don't like getting dirty.
 B. Some students don't enjoy being outside.
 C. Some students already know how to garden.
 D. Some students may have no chance to garden.
32. Why does Sam say, "And think about it: what helps you to be good at sport?"
- | | |
|---------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| A. To change the subject. | B. To introduce his next reason. |
| C. To support Liz's idea. | D. To find an answer to the question. |

An interview with Andy Griffiths

Andy Griffiths is well known as a writer of children's books. Here are some interesting things you might not know about him!

What do you like to do after a long day of writing?

I go for long runs and bike rides beside the beach. An hour of exercise after a long day of writing gives me energy. Then I'm ready to write some more.

Do you write using a computer or by hand?

At first I write the stories by hand, and then I transfer (转录) them onto a computer. I like to write by hand when I travel. I find it very easy to lose myself in my diary when I am away from my usual activities.

What super power would you like to have?

X-ray vision (影像) if I can control it.

What is your favourite food?

I'm never happier than when I'm drinking banana milkshakes. And I love fish. But I don't like drinking fish milkshakes—they are just terrible!

What is your favourite book?

Alice in Wonderland. It has so many surprises and such silliness in it.

Do you write for adults too?

Only if I really have to. I much prefer the freedom and fun of writing for children.

What do you say to kids who say, "Why should I read?"

As Dr. Seuss says, "The more you read, the more things you will know. The more you learn, the more places you'll go."

53. What is Andy's job?
54. What do you think of Andy?
55. Do you want to be a person like Andy? Why or why not?

第八部分 书面表达(共 1 题;满分 20 分)

One possible version:

Dear Nathan,

I'm sorry to know that you are not happy these days. You needn't worry too much. It's true that everyone makes mistakes.

Take me, for example. One day, I spent so much time playing football with my friends that I forgot to do my homework. I said sorry to my teacher and finished it the next day. I found it important to achieve a balance between schoolwork and hobbies.

It doesn't matter whether or not you make mistakes. What matters most is to correct and learn from them. In this way, others will understand you. Then you will feel much better.

I hope my experience can help you out.

Best wishes,

Su Hua
